Bethel 2003 Committee calls it quits

But final report notes that much is yet to be done

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Five years to the month after it was formed, Bethel's 2003 Committee was officially disbanded Monday evening by the town Board of Selectmen.

The committee was formed in October 1998 and charged with making recommendations regarding implementing the town's recently adopted comprehensive plan.

The move to disband the committee now comes at the recommendation of current committee members, who said that while there is still work to be done, their part of the project has run its course.

"The current committee members believe that 'fresh blood,' which can provide renewed energy for any future committee work related to [ongoing tasks]," is now needed, according to the group's final report.

The selectmen accepted the report with "tremendous thanks and appreciation," said Chairman Dutch Dresser.

Fellow selectman Al Barth seconded the thought. "This is indeed an invisible, thankless job you have done, all of you," he said, "given the apathy that I'm sure you ran up against. Nobody wants to plan for the future, in some cases even in their own personal finances ... but certainly not for the town's."

"To me it's a mind-boggling job that you've done," Barth said, "and that you've persisted and come up with some wonderful things. Now it's time for the rest of us, all of us, to pick up the slack and move forward."

Newry to negotiate with state on comp plan's alleged shortcomings

By ALISON ALOISIO

Newry selectmen decided Monday to meet with state officials to try to satisfy their objections to the town's comprehensive plan. Unless an agreement can be reached, Newry could risk a legal challenge to its land use ordinances.

Earlier this year, the town submitted a plan to the State Planning Office for review. The SPO found four areas that it said needed further attention from Newry's Comprehensive Plan Committee:

- 1) Clarifying a strategy intended to protect ground and surface water resources in the Sunday River watershed from the impact of anticipated wa-

The state's review cited a number of topics as needing more attention, including water, natural resources, housing and rural areas.

- ter withdrawals for snowmaking.
- 2) Identifying the size of the projected gap between the supply and demand for work force housing, and strengthening the regional strategy to address that gap.

- 3) Clarifying the strategy to protect natural resources.

- 4) Strengthening strategies to monitor and manage development in critical rural areas.

The review process can include negotiation between the town and the SPO on dealing with the issues. But the comprehensive plan must, within two years, be declared consistent with Maine's Planning and Land Use Regulation Act. Any land use ordinances must then be consistent with the state-approved plan.

Runoff again clouds Sunday River

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The past weekend's heavy rains took a big divot from somewhere in the Sunday River watershed, but developers of the new golf course in Jordan Bowl are convinced it wasn't from their project.

On Saturday, during a period of particularly heavy rain, water at the river's "Letter S" pool was nearly opaque, and the color of milky coffee (photo, page 5).

The Sunday River at this point runs near the edge of the 18-hole golf course now under construction in Jordan Bowl, and the developers acknowledge that about that time one silt fence did fail, allowing dirt water to flow through toward the river.

The fence failure was self-reported to the Maine Department of Environmental Protection.

On Tuesday DEP Environmental Specialist Will Cook said the spill apparently originated in an area where the course builders were rerouting smaller streams (as approved in their permit).

"They had a blow-out," Cook said. He added that the event

Andover's unique library building needs new cover

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Andover Public Library's 12-year-old roof leaks and needs to be replaced.

Although the leakage resulted, according to library officials, from poor workmanship, there is apparently no recourse with the contractor.

The earlier project failed to include any ventilation or a watershed, said Brad Thibodeau, chairman of the library's Board of Trustees.

Because there is no ventilation, a "hot roof" situation was created, he said. That led to ice jams in the winter.

The backup of ice and water, combined with the lack of watershed material under the roof, caused it to leak.

He said he did not know who put on the roof, but he does not think whoever did it was still in the area.

The library board has decided to install a metal roof. The cost of materials will be $19,000, said Thibodeau.

The work will be done by Victor Peterson of Andover.

Thibodeau said the library might be able to cover the cost with current funds. But Honey Cronin, who has been successful in obtaining several grants for the library in the past, is also applying for grant funds for the roof project, he said.

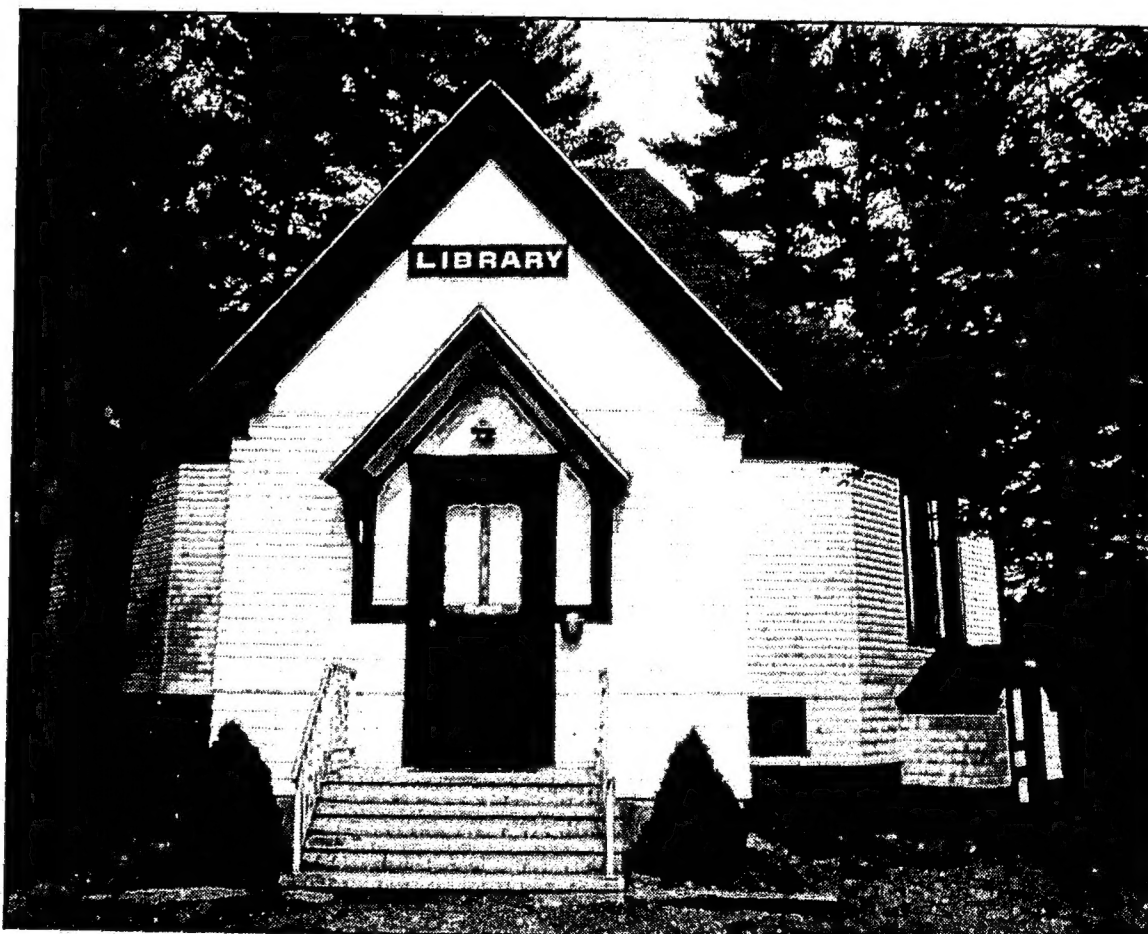

Earlier grants have come from the Libra and the Stephen and Tabitha King foundations.

The roof work will be done next spring. Currently, Peterson is at work replacing rotted boards inside the library walls, Thibodeau said.

The rot damage was probably caused by leakage from both the existing roof and from the previous cedar-shingle roof, Thibodeau said.

Because the full extent of the damage has not yet been determined, an estimate of

Downhill Derby will honor Inman and Abbott

By ALISON ALOISIO

Vern Inman and Harlan Abbott, who were both killed in a plane crash last month, were longtime volunteers at the West Paris Downhill Derby. On Saturday, racers, parents and friends will remember them.

The race itself will be dedicated to the memory of the two men. In addition, just before the start of the 1 p.m.

Editorial

Taking us for a spin

We thank the trustees of the Bethel Water District for the effort they have obviously put into the letter that appears to the right. We trust our readers will also appreciate the effort. In the interest of accuracy, however, three minor clarifications are in order.

1) We believe all the questions we submitted do in fact bear directly or indirectly on the Water District's finances, hence on its rate requirements. The questions — all of them — will be published in next week's edition of The Citizen. Readers will be able to judge for themselves.

2) "L'affair letterhead" — a bit silly, but also in its way revealing. The trustees' letter states that the questions were presented to them on Sept. 29. This is not true.

The questions — a typed list with a boldface line at the top stating they were Bethel Citizen questions regarding the proposed rate increase — were in fact handed to Chairman Drummond by the editor on Thursday morning, Sept. 25.

The chairman later called and indicated that he had reviewed them, but he also announced that the trustees now required a copy of the questions "on Bethel Citizen letterhead." This seemed to us a pointless bit of pettiness (by this logic, whenever a reporter goes out to conduct an interview he or she should probably be attired in the official Bethel Citizen uniform of the day).

But what the hell, we reprinted the questions (without any changes) onto a suitably official-looking letterhead (actually, a generic MSWord memorandum form) and left them for Chairman Drummond to pick up.

He did, but the only thing new he was picking up was the letterhead; there was nothing new in the questions, which at that point the trustees had already had for four days.

Why then do the trustees feel the need to misrepresent this?

What is the point in trying to lead our readers to think the trustees received the questions four days later than they actually did? Perhaps to make readers think we had sandbagged the trustees by giving them the questions with too little time to adequately reply?

As we said: "silly."

(We don't want readers to infer from this "letterhead" foolishness that some form of official standing is required to ask questions of the trustees, or for that matter any public officials. The newspaper has no special standing in this regard. In the case of the Water District, any customer can ask, any time, in any manner, any question they choose. In fact, we wish more people did. Caveat: whether they get an answer, a timely and straight answer, is another matter entirely.)

3) Yet another bit of historical revisionism on the part of the trustees. The last question asked by The Citizen of the trustees is why they repeatedly claim that the last rate increase took place in 1999.

They do this both in their latest PUC filing and in the hearing notice that was sent to Water District customers. But, again, this is simply not true. In 1999 the district did submit a PUC filing for that rate increase, but right on the cover sheet of that filing you can read: (it's on the PUC Web site) "effective on April 1, 2000." Subsequent paperwork submitted by the district consistently bears the same date.

Now, in the letter printed here, the trustees (after being called on this discrepancy by The Citizen) try to fudge their way out by arguing that because customers started being billed for the new rate on Jan. 1, 2000, then the "increase was effective on December 31, 1999." Run that by us again? Not "effective" in any sense we have ever heard the word used. You can certainly make a case for Jan. 1, 2000, but trying to reach back into 1999 completely fails the straight-face test.

In fact it would be illegal for the rate to have become effective on Dec. 31, 1999. The rate increase was filed under 35-A M.R.S.A. §6104, which requires a 30-day waiting period following the district's public hearing on the rate increase. And that hearing was held Dec. 9, 1999.

Put it this way: if in the early evening of Dec. 31, 1999 you took a nice long shower to get ready for New Years Eve festivities, the district was selling you that water at the old rate, not the new, rate — because on Dec. 31, 1999 the increased rate had not yet taken effect, despite what the trustees would now have you believe.

Again, we ask: Why the need for such flim-flam? What is the point?

As regards the length of time the trustees actually had The Citizen's questions, or the date of the last water rate increase — neither matter is terribly serious in and of itself. Perhaps in another context such petty prevarications might even be amusing — but not here, not from a public agency dealing with the public's dollars, and the public's trust.

If even in such small matters the trustees of the Bethel Water District must resort to twinking, twisting and otherwise distorting numbers, words and facts, how then are we to be confident of the numbers, words and facts they use to present far more important matters — complex matters (and there are several in the letter to the right) where the trustees are, in fact, more knowledgeable than their audience — and thus less likely to be caught out at their spin game.

INTERIM WATER DISTRICT ANSWERS

To the Editor:

On Monday, Sept. 29, 2003, you presented us with a series of twenty-eight questions focusing on the District's finances and operations — some relate to our proposed rate increase and some do not.

The questions are sufficiently detailed to warrant considerable research time by the trustees and staff. At this time, our three staff members are engaged in activities associated with BWD's third-quarter billing (meter reading, data entry, mailing preparation, etc.) and overseeing the District's interests in the Clark Street sewer/water project. They are also fulfilling our routine operations and water-safety protocols.

We intend to consider the twenty-eight questions over the coming weeks and do our best to have answers to them available at the public hearing for the proposed rate increase on Thursday, Oct. 21, 2003, at 6 p.m. in the meeting room of the Bethel Town Office.

Important: Funds designated for water source enhancement, such as the approximately $40,000 released to BWD by the Town of Bethel in early 2002, are segregated from the District's operating funds.

BWD trustees have filed a proposed water rate increase with the Maine Public Utilities Commission (the "PUC") under the guidelines of 35-A M.R.S.A. §6104. This document has been entered on the PUC Docket as case #2003-693. If approved, the proposed rate increase will be effective on Dec. 31, 2003.

Formal word about the proposed rate increase and the public hearing will be shared with all of BWD customers in a letter distributed with their third-quarter bills on or about Oct. 1, 2003.

The trustees have delineated several areas of financial significance in the District's need for seeking a rate increase at this time. The remainder of this letter will be devoted to addressing these factors.

BWD's last water rate increase was effective on Dec. 31, 1999, and its impact was realized by our customers during the first calendar quarter (Jan. 1 through March 31) of 2000.

Some background. In the PUC filing supporting the proposed rate increase, BWD has provided actual operating statements for calendar 2000, 2001, 2002, and, in the absence of actual figures for 2003, a pro forma, or projected statement for calendar 2003. The PUC will not allow the District to project its costs or financial needs further into the future. In short, BWD must make reality-based, current year projections with little or no allowance for either expected future economic trends or unanticipated costs.

During the years 2000, 2001, and 2002, BWD had operating revenues of $209,907, $229,425, and $231,161, respectively; and it projects a pro forma of $304,767 for 2003.

Against these figures, BWD had operating expenses, depreciation, and taxes totaling $208,010, $225,808, $235,896, and a pro forma $250,689, respectively. Taking into account "other income" and "debt service," BWD has experienced year-end operating deficits of ($619), ($11,672), ($26,350), with the pro forma surplus projected at $14,500 (which includes a contingency allowance of 5 percent).

In the proposed rate increase case statement, BWD seeks a $73,606 increase in overall water revenues to support its operations for 2004 and beyond based on 2003 sales and expenses. Notable increases in BWD expenses are as follows:

Salaries and Wages, $3,044 (or a 3.9 percent increase on the $77,296 for 2002). BWD employs a salaried superintendent, and two hourly full-time employees, the assistant superintendent and secretary. In addition, we employ several part-time, casual employees who serve as fee-based drivers of water samples to the Rockport laboratory and an occasional laborer who assists the superintendent and assistant superintendent in special projects or emergencies. Last winter's "Deep Freeze" is an example of the latter.

Employee Benefits, $2,000 (an increase of 4.5 percent over 2002's expense of $44,800). The trustees believe that it is essential to keep commitments made at the time of employment regarding compensation and benefits.

Transportation, $575 (a 6.0 percent increase over the 2002 expenditure of $9,425). BWD anticipates expending $10,000 for general transportation, which includes the delivery of semi-weekly water samples to a state-approved testing laboratory in Rockport, by part-time employees who are paid by the trip and by mileage on their personal vehicles.

Rate Case Expense, $1,000. It is anticipated that BWD will expend this sum to engage Gordon F. LaBay of Portland, a utility consultant, for professional services in conjunction with this rate increase process.

Insurance premiums for vehicles and other general and liability coverage have increased 56 percent since 2000.

It should also be noted that BWD has constructed a new well and pumping station to serve its customers in West Bethel. There are some increased costs associated with this facility that are being taken into account in this rate increase.

Finally, the proposed rate increase includes additional funds for Debt Service, or $7,445, to cover principally the new debt of $24,164 at 2.23 percent for a new pickup truck to replace an old, marginally serviceable vehicle.

There are also areas where BWD will experience reductions of operating revenues totaling $10,253, as follows:

Miscellaneous jobbing income will be reduced by $5,621. These are water-supply activities undertaken by BWD staff for private homeowners and businesses and billed to the customers. With greater supervision being given to system enhancements and expansion, there will be less time for our staff to assist customers with the installation of side service lines.

BWD will reduce its harvesting of wood from its Chapman Brook watershed, causing an income reduction of $4,532. In recent years, it has been customary to use some of the income from wood harvests to offset system capital improvements (i.e., water treatment and monitoring controls, delivery system upgrades, etc.). For the foreseeable future, BWD will limit its wood harvesting operations to generate income (1) to offset real estate taxes assessed by the Town of Newry and (2) to maintain the watershed's limited access road network and associated erosion controls.

BWD continues to believe that the Chapman Brook watershed requires prudent access for stream inspection, potential forest fire control, and for the elimination of diseased or damaged trees. The District has a continuing wood-harvesting program plan and contracts with a professional forester, Douglas Schneider of Rumford, and wood harvest contractor, D. A. Wilson & Co., of Bethel. Both adhere to "best practices" management standards in all of their BWD activities.

During its history, BWD has made continuous improvements to ensure delivery of safe, potable water to its Bethel customers. In recent years, for example, the disinfection equipment, with attendant alarms, has been professionally reviewed and rewired. A backup system, with a regularly tested electrical generator, is in place in the event of primary disinfection system failure.

On Sept. 11, 2003, BWD received its annual watershed inspection report from the Maine Department of Human Resources, Division of Health Engineering. The review focused on the (1) watershed control program, (2) physical condition and protection of the source water intake, (3) system's equipment maintenance program, (4) physical condition of the disinfection equipment, (5) BWD operating procedures, (6) water testing records, and (7) the identification of any improvements needed in BWD equipment, system maintenance and data collection. The field service inspector concluded her report, as follows: "Bethel Water District is doing an excellent job of providing safe drinking water, and the watershed inspection shows you are complying with the requirements to avoid filtration."

The BWD trustees are proud of the District's employees and their keen attention to our customers and the safety of our product. All Bethel Water District customers are encouraged to attend the public hearing on Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, 2003. We look forward to answering additional questions and receiving comments from the public then.

CASINO REFERENDUM INFORMATION FORUM

To the Editor:

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a breakfast and informational forum on the upcoming casino referendum. It will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 15, from 7:30 to 9 a.m. at the Bethel Inn & Country Club, in the South Dining Room. A $5 buffet breakfast will be offered and payment will be collected at the door. Space is limited. An RSVP is mandatory by calling the chamber office, 824-2282, no later than Monday, Oct. 13 at 5 p.m. All are welcomed to attend.

We are all being bombarded by the media with information related to this referendum. Both groups have a speakers' bureau whose representatives are traveling around the state meeting with groups such as ours. The spokespeople who will be attending our breakfast are Sgt. Greg Spitzer, retired state policeman for Casinos NO! and Erin Lebane, Legal Counsel for Think About It? The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors is not taking a position on this issue, but thought it worthwhile to invite speakers from both groups to come to Bethel so that our members and friends can hear from them directly, and ask them questions.

After breakfast, each speaker will have approximately 15 minutes to speak to the group. At this time, we will collect written questions and present them one at a time to the spokespeople, who will have up to three minutes to answer. The question and answer session will end promptly at 9 a.m. This is not a debate, but rather an informational opportunity. Please come and learn about this important issue to the future of our state.

Remember, space is limited. Please RSVP to 824-2282 by Oct. 13.

Briefly

Community/rec project OK'd

WOODSTOCK — Thirty voters Tuesday approved converting the town's old fire station into a community/recreation center. They also OK'd the use of private donations to renovate it, and purchase an adjacent lot to provide water and sewer service. In addition, the residents approved taking $12,000 from the Tree Growth Account to help fund an ongoing expansion of the current fire station. An earlier plan had called for selling the old fire station and using the proceeds toward the expansion. Town officials said a significant portion of the $12,000 could be refunded to the Tree Growth Account. The work on the two projects is estimated to cost $11,700 less than the total of all revenues allocated. Selectman Steve Bies said the $12,000 is intended mainly to provide cash flow during the efforts.

Vote set to fill Abbott seat

WEST PARIS — A special Town Meeting has been scheduled for Nov. 12 to elect a selectman to the seat held by Harlan Abbott, who died as the result of a plane crash Sept. 14. Abbott's term runs through March of 2006. Residents will also be asked to change the town manager job description, to include the town clerk position. The item was inadvertently left out when voters approved a change to a town manager form of government in March.

Dean Bennett MLT speaker

BETHEL — Locke Mills native Dean Bennett, professor emeritus at the University of Maine at Farmington, will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Mahoosuc Land Trust Oct. 26. Bennett will do a photo-illustrated program on the Allagash Wilderness Waterway. His photos and artwork have been widely published. He is also the author of several books, including two on the Allagash. The meeting begins at 7 p.m. in the McLaughlin Science Center at Gould Academy.

Silent auction items needed

WEST PARIS — A silent auction will take place Nov. 2 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Agnes Gray School, to benefit the Tri Town Ambulance Auxiliary and the West Paris Old Home Days Association. The organizations have set a goal of collecting 500 items to auction. For more information, or to make a donation, call 674-2936.

Puzzling event in Andover

ANDOVER — The Andover Historical Society is selling 500-piece puzzles featuring a photo of the Lovejoy Covered Bridge. The cost per puzzle is $12, and proceeds will benefit various activities of the society. Puzzles will be available at Saturday's Open House at the AHS. The photo of the bridge was taken by Dirk MacKnight.

Outing Club Ski Sale scheduled

BETHEL — The Bethel Outing Club's 23rd annual Ski Sale will take place Friday, Oct. 24 and Saturday, Oct. 25. Individuals and families can stock up on new and used alpine, telemark, cross-country and snowboard equipment and clothing in sizes for toddlers through adult. Boots, poles, bindings, boards and more than 1,000 pairs of skis from over a dozen ski shops and individuals will be on sale. Individuals may also bring equipment to sell, subject to a 15 percent consignment fee, anytime after 3 p.m., Oct. 24. Items must be priced on tickets provided by the Outing Club at the sale, or picked up at the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce and filled out in advance. Persons or groups with more than five items for sale should obtain and complete their tickets prior to the sale. The sale, proceeds of which benefit area youth ski programs, will be held at the Gould Academy Field House. Sale hours are: Friday from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Vendor information may be obtained from Ann Speth at 824-2586. For general inquiries about the Bethel Outing Club, contact the club's president, Mike Cooper at cooperm@megalink.net.

Barn Day at Gould

BETHEL — Gould Academy will hold a Community Barn Day Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. The public is invited to visit and see the animals of the Farm and Forest Program, as well as demonstrations of traditional tools and techniques of farming and forestry operations. Animals include horses, sheep, chickens, turkeys, and a pig. Other activities include cider pressing (and drinking) and woodsmen skills (chopping, splitting, ax-throwing). The barn is located behind Gehring and Ordway halls on Church Street.

Police share home sale funds

NORWAY — Police agencies are sharing the proceeds from the sale of the home of a convicted drug dealer. A home owned by Joel Keene, who is serving a 5 1/2-year sentence for possession with intent to distribute marijuana and cocaine, was sold in May for $225,000. The Maine Drug Enforcement Agency got the largest share, $83,363, or 40 percent of the $208,409 net sales amount, said John Cooper, chief deputy for the U.S. Marshal's Office in Portland. The Maine State Police, the Norway Police Department and sheriff's departments for Oxford and Somerset counties each got around $21,000, or 10 percent of the proceeds, he said. The amounts were based on the extent to which the agencies participated in the investigation. A U.S. District Court jury ruled that Keene's home and 79 acres of land were subject to forfeiture because they were used to store large quantities of marijuana and cocaine, said Gerry Baril, a supervisor and special agent with the Maine DEA. Baril said the homes of drug dealers are seized when the amount of drugs taken in a case are consistent with the value of the home. "He dealt in drugs worth hundreds of thousands of dollars a year," Baril said. The law enforcement agencies that received the money participated in a Sept. 29, 2000, raid of Keene's property. Police seized around 70 pounds of marijuana and several pounds of cocaine that were found in Keene's garage. Keene was found guilty of the charges in July 2002. Norway Police Chief Tim Richards told selectmen last week that his department is using the money to buy radar equipment, computers, a security camera and personal body armor. Richards said the money must be used "for equipment to counter and fight drugs."

IFW to print children's magazine

AUGUSTA — The Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife and the New Hampshire Fish and Game Department have joined forces to produce Wild New England, an online children's magazine. Each issue covers two months of wildlife topics related to the seasons, along with interactive fun things to do. Visitors can access the Wild New England web pages through each agency's Web site at www.wildlife.state.nh.us or www.mefishwildlife.com or by logging directly onto www.wildnewengland.org.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Wednesday, Oct. 1

At 10:10 a.m. police received a report of an injured deer at Davis Park. On arrival, the officer approached within 20 feet of a large whitetail buck before it jumped and ran off. "Apparently the deer mistakenly felt that he was invisible," noted the officer.

Sunday, Oct. 5

At 6:15 p.m. police received information that a subject was driving without a license. The officer observed him on Vernon Street. After a license check, David Lee Thompson, 42, of Bethel was arrested and charged with operating without a license.

At 11:20 a.m. police assisted the Fire Department with a vehicle fire on the Flat Road. The officer stood by for BFD.

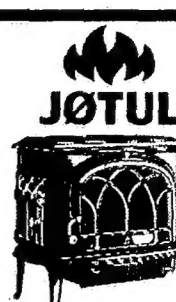

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summons in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

PLEASE DO YOUR HOMEWORK

To the Editor:

In the latest brochure promoting the casino in Sanford, the following statement is made — "100 million in new tax revenue." "The resort casino will generate nearly $50 million a year in new education funding for Maine's schools and universities. An additional nearly $50 million per year will be dedicated to residential property tax relief, which will ease the state's second-worst-in-the-nation tax burden."

Are these claims true? Let's look again. Does nearly $50 million and nearly $50 million add to $100 million as claimed or nearly $100 million? Just how much will the state receive? Who knows?

Educational funding comes from the state's general fund and that is decided by the politicians in Augusta not the casino. These funds will not be dedicated to education.

"... nearly $50 million will be dedicated to residential property tax relief." This statement is a lie. Again the money will go into the state's general fund and how, and for what, it is spent will be decided by the Augusta politicians. The casino cannot dedicate funds. You can be guaranteed if the casino is built your taxes will not go down.

Finally, there is a truth in their statement that is highlighted above — Maine is "the second-worst-in-the-nation" taxing state. If we all want real economic growth, we must demand that the politicians lower the tax burden on Maine citizens and businesses and make the state more business friendly by cutting red tape. If they do that, then perhaps we can keep our kids here so that all of us can enjoy our beautiful state.

Please do your homework, get the facts, and vote on Question 3 in November.

FELT IMMEDIATELY AT HOME

To the Editor:

It is hard to find a healthcare center today that truly cares about their patients. There are too many patients scheduled and a lack of time for proper treatment in a lot of Maine facilities. You feel rushed in and out, with a large bill and no better understanding of why you are sick. That is why I feel drawn to write about the Bethel Family Health Center.

I have lived in Maine all of my life and never have seen a group of such caring, professional healthcare workers before. The nurses and doctors there take the time to get to know their patients and make sure they leave there with an understanding of any medications or illnesses they may have.

Since the doctor I had most of my life is no longer in practice, I made the decision to transfer to a new doctor's office and felt immediately at home by the Bethel Healthcare team, resting assured that I had made the right decision for my family and me.

My hat is off to BFHC for their true commitment to their patients. Their hard work and dedication to our community does not go unnoticed.

W.E.S. CRAFT FAIR, BAKE SALE

To the Editor:

The Woodstock School PTA is putting final plans together for our 2nd annual Craft Fair and Bake Sale. From my previous letter, you could see we are offering tables at only $10 each, along with a small craft donation to our Chinese Raffle. We still have tables available. The deadline for table rental is Monday, Oct. 20. You may request a table by calling me at home at 665-2211 or by e-mailing me at missy88@megalink.net.

The Craft Fair and Bake Sale will be held on Saturday, Oct. 25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Woodstock Elementary School. Hope to see you then.

thoughts on where that forward movement might come from.

The final report suggested that the Land Use and Development section of the town comprehensive plan be reviewed again a year from now.

The report also notes other areas that committee members believe are still in need of "continuing attention in terms of addressing comprehensive plan recommendations."

These included economic development (a business park, tax increment financing, and a sewer system direct charge) and affordable housing.

Groundwater questions

John Maloney of the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments has been advising Newry on its plan. Maloney met with selectmen Monday. He described the SPO objections as "picky."

"They hit the water resources very hard," he said.

The SPO review expressed concern that continued groundwater withdrawal for snowmaking could degrade the quality of the Sunday River and its tributary, Merrill Brook. The review suggested a hydrogeologic study be done to obtain more information.

Maloney said the conclusion regarding degradation was reached "without any real scientific evidence."

The SPO had cited a 1990s monitoring report that found early stages of biological degradation in the river and brook. No further detail was given.

Maloney also noted that in reviewing Greenwood's comprehensive plan, the SPO raised an issue about snowmaking and groundwater at Mt. Abram.

But, said Maloney, for the past 20 years snowmaking water at that ski area has in fact been drawn from surface ponds.

Rumford has housing

As for any need for seasonal employee housing, selectman Jim Largess said the state should take into account that significant rental housing is available, and utilized, in Rumford.

Board members also said they felt the plan adequately addressed the protection of natural resources and large rural areas in town.

Several members of the Comprehensive Plan Committee also attended Tuesday's meeting. Roger Wheeler said the group tried to make the plan somewhat less restrictive than the previous comprehensive plan, and more open to people's rights to use their land.

Planners vulnerable?

Maloney said if the SPO stands its ground on its objections to the plan and does not find it consistent with the law, "someone could challenge the development review ordinance."

That someone, he said, could be an applicant dissatisfied with a Planning Board decision, or a dissatisfied abutter.

Maloney said the state's Planning and Land Use Regulation Act is a relatively new law, and so far there have been few legal challenges.

A Portland television station did challenge ordinances in court, he said, after a town planning board rejected an application to build a transmitting tower.

The court ruled in favor of the town, "but not until everyone had spent money on attorney's fees," Maloney said.

After Newry first received the SPO review, in July, Maloney drafted a reply to each of the four SPO objections. He conveyed the same sentiments expressed at Monday's meeting.

The selectmen endorsed Maloney's reply, and will send with it a request for a meeting with SPO representatives.

was quickly and appropriately dealt with, and that he did not expect any lingering environmental problems from the event.

Overall, Harris Golf has been receiving high marks from the DEP for its environmental stewardship of the $8 million, 350-acre project.

The agency makes on-site inspections weekly, consistently finding the site to be "in very good condition."

Ross Cudlitz, the third party inspector hired by the DEP to oversee the project, said: "I have inspected several golf courses over many years and can honestly say that Sunday River Golf Course has raised the bar on expectations of performance when it comes to erosion and sedimentation control, especially considering the short construction season and difficult terrain."

But what was the source

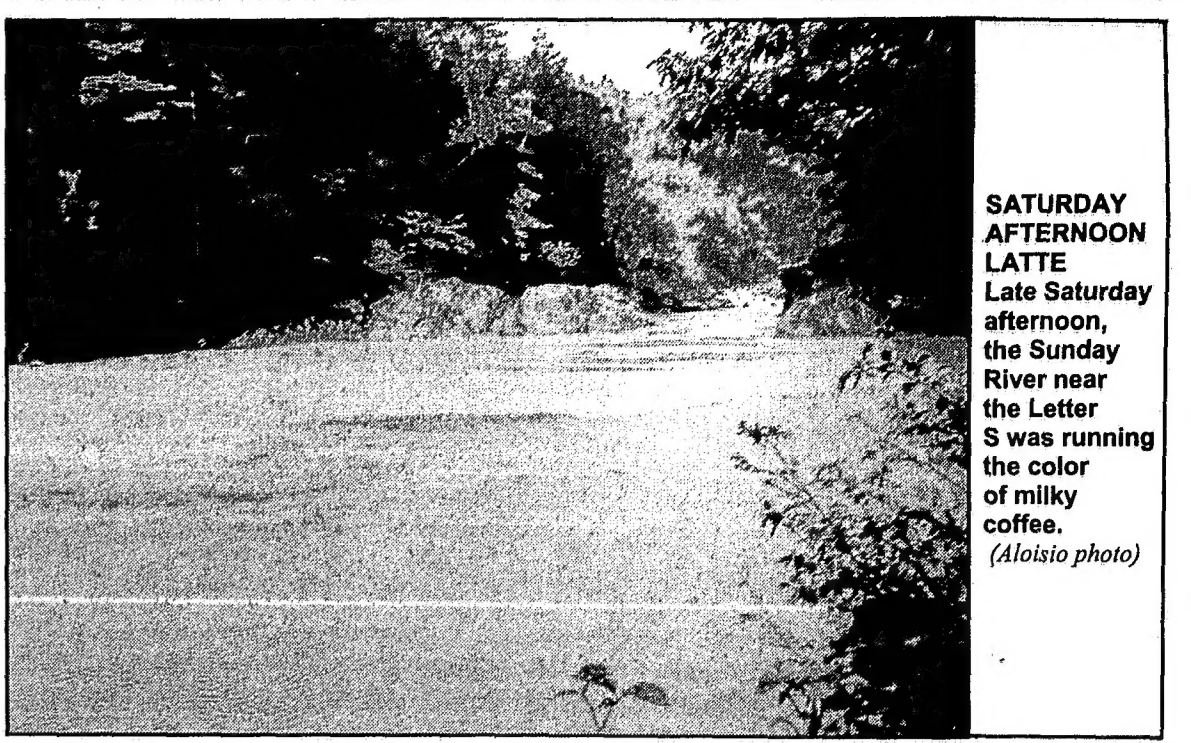

Jeff Harris, of Harris Golf, is convinced the blowout reported to the DEP was not responsible for the discoloration observed at the Letter S.

The blowout was below the Letter S and involved "less than a wheelbarrow of dirt," he said.

Harris also said he didn't believe any other golf course problems were responsible for the discoloration.

As a more likely source, he pointed to a large clay deposit in the upper part of the Merrill Brook watershed.

The deposit in question is not on the golf course site, but it is part of the watershed that feeds Merrill Brook — which flows through the golf site into the Sunday River above the Letter S.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON LATTE
Late Saturday afternoon, the Sunday River near the Letter S was running the color of milky coffee. (Aloisio photo)

But nearby resident David Walker is dubious about the Merrill Brook explanation.

Walker, who drives along the Sunday River daily, said he checked out Merrill Brook at the time water at the Letter S was heavily discolored, and the water at the tributary brook was running clear (this is consistent with an observation by The Citizen during the discoloration event).

Walker said he then walked along the river and noted an intermittent stream — from the golf course site — running, discolored, into the Sunday River above the Letter S.

He also said that on other occasions he had "poked around" the golf course site and found silt fences that were incomplete or that had failed.

And he had noted "three or four" other occasions during construction season when the Sunday River was discolored.

But he, too, gave the developers generally high marks for their handling of the project.

"I think they have done a tremendous amount of work putting up silt fences, said Walker, who is a member of the town Planning Board.

"I think they're trying to do a good job," he said, and, he noted, "The river has cleared up pretty fast after the runoff."

(Erosion in the Sunday River watershed, from a variety of sources, has been the subject of scrutiny in recent years. A study group has conducted surveys documenting erosion sites on the river itself and throughout the watershed, and has received grant money to repair damage at some of the sites.)

THINK ABOUT OUR FUTURE ENVIRONMENT
RECYCLE NOW

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

I have decided that I want to go through my second childhood — now! I don't want to wait until I'm too old and feeble to appreciate it.

I spend a lot of time with my grandsons and so much envy their spontaneous joy of some of the simpler things in life. The purity of their laughter reminds me what it is like to be unswayed by the responsibilities of adulthood.

The other day Elijah, age 4 and Reese, age 7 were visiting with me. They helped me make a pie by adding ingredients as needed. When we were done, much to their delight, I left the crust remnants, rolling pin and some flour for them to play with.

They dug out some cookie cutters and assorted other utensils to enhance their play. Their imaginations kicked into overdrive with dough roads and cookie cutter buildings. Flour became a snowstorm. They saw endless possibilities; all I saw was a mess that I would have to clean up.

For over an hour the building, destruction and rebuilding of Dough Town went on. There was no bickering between siblings. No teasing for this, that and the other thing. Just the pure enjoyment of their creative imaginations, some left over piecrust and a bunch of kitchen utensils.

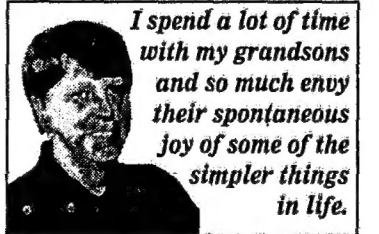

The snowstorm over Crust Ville soon became a Nor'easter of flour over my kitchen floor. And what do kids do after a downfall of snow? Well, they slip and slide and roll around in it of course.

I was ready to rant and rave and let them know just how much work they were creating for me, and then I heard their giggles and shrieks of joy. I just couldn't bring the wrath of a raging grandmother down on them; they were having so much fun. There was nothing that couldn't be cleaned up pretty quickly and that was a very small price to pay for a couple of hours of what the kids referred to as "a blast."

I got out the vacuum cleaner and turned it over to Reese and Elijah while I cleaned up what was left of the crust village. The vacuum cleaner soon became a good monster that gobbled up the dangerous bad wizard dust and this was good for another half hour of play and a lot more laughing.

So, for two and a half hours these two kids had the most wonderful time with old dough and a vacuum cleaner. This is what led to my decision to want to go through my second childhood now. I want something as simple as piecrust to spark my imagination and household appliances to be an adventure instead of a chore.

I want my laughter to be pure and complete as an expression of my glee rather than a sardonic chuckle of disgust over current events. I would truly love to think that the only bad guys were imaginary creatures instead of having the knowledge that they are very real people; some of which I may even have voted for over the years.

How wonderful it must be to receive a handful of change and run to put it in your bank knowing that you are now a little closer to that special toy you're saving for. I go to my bank with the hope that there will be a little more money in my account than bills that have to be paid and having no expectation that it will happen.

I wish I could lie on a hillside on a warm summer day and see the animals in the clouds and not be concerned about all the work that has to be done.

I want to believe that the world is mine and that my future waits for me full of opportunities and not worry if Social Security will still be there when I need it or that my 401K won't get me through the first year of retirement.

I wish I could fear that the worst harm I could experience was a skinned knee or the very worst, a broken arm that really wouldn't be so bad because I could have all my friends sign my cast. I want to stop worrying that every new lump on my aging body is terminal cancer and every chest pain is the onset of a fatal heart attack.

As adults with adult responsibilities we spend so much time and energy trying to make ends meet, keeping our homes and our cars in good condition, taking care of the needs of our families and worrying that we will not be able to do it all. What we don't spend enough time doing is listening to the laughter of our children and grandchildren. We don't spend enough time hugging, talking or being spontaneous.

And that is why I want to be a kid again because as a grownup we lose so much and there just isn't enough time.

So, if you see me this winter making snow angels in a field or giggling uncontrollably at my own silly antics, you will know that I have achieved the impossible — I have entered my second childhood.

And if you want to talk to me about this please feel free to contact me, but the way I see it, you'll have to catch me first because...tag, you're it!

Derek Schwarz and family of Raleigh, N.C., are visiting with his parents, Lucia and Eric Schwarz, this week.
Aaron Conant and Triste Coulombe were married in Newport, R.I., at the Jesus Savior Church on Sept. 28, 2003. The reception was held at the Astors-Beechwood Mansion in Newport. Attending from Maine were parents of the groom, Roger and Lillian Conant; Jake, Lorena and Lance Tyler; Patrick Feeney, as best man; Mark and Michelle Bartlett; Jim and Cheryl Heath; Brian Chase; Ben and DeeDee Kellogg; Juanita Haines; Roger Conant's sister, Charlene Ring; and Dick and Bev Melville. Jeannine, Dan, Joshua and Marcus Rand came from Richmond, Va., and spent the week with the Tylers and Conants in Newport. Ken Rowe, Lillian Conant's brother, and niece, Brenda Rowe and friend Chris attended the wedding. Classmates of Aaron at Telstar attending were Kristen Monk and fiancé and Rena Hudson and husband from Arizona. Many friends from Ticonderoga, N.Y., and Massachusetts were present, and a close friend, Marty, came from Colorado. The bride and groom are in Italy touring Rome and Venice for their honeymoon. They will reside in Portsmouth, R.I., where the bride is an OBGYN doctor at the Newport Hospital, and the groom is employed by Biogen in Boston, Mass.

The Red Hat ladies met Friday, Sept. 26, at Cho Sun restaurant on Main Street.
The Cross Country Quilters were invited to a quilt gathering at Colebrook, N.H., on Sept. 25 at the United Trinity Methodist Church. Several members of the group enjoyed good food, fellowship and sharing with regional quilters.
Correction: Lorrie and Mike Hoeh were fishing on the Miramichi River in New Brunswick, Canada, not in Merrimack, Canada as reported last week.
Lorrie Hoeh demonstrated spinning in the museum at Fryeburg Fair. She also won a blue ribbon on the Quilt Kaleidoscope in the Agriculture Building.
Alden and Mabel Kennett spent the week at Fryeburg Fair.
Bob and I had a great week at Fryeburg Fair. Bob is a "woodturner" with many bowls, salad bowls, vases and pens that he displayed and sold in the Forestry Building. Our daughter, Martha Bangs, was with us all week — a big help. It was a great place to see our many wonderful friends.

Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge played a five-table Howell Movement on Oct. 3. Pete Cummings and Richard Allen came in first; Woody Mercier and Donna Swett, second; Richard Ballian and Donald Johnson, third; Mimi Bell and Rowena Palmer, fourth.

The Class of '53 celebrated their 50th reunion during the Alumni Weekend at Gould Academy. As part of the celebration, Barbara and Norm Ferguson hosted the Saturday night dinner at their home in Hanover. There were 58 classmates and spouses attending. All enjoyed the celebration.
Jim Ray and Jody Emery rolled into Hanover last week after a cross-country trip from Austin, Texas. Jim's aunt from Baltimore came with them and has since gone to be with relatives in Vermont.
The Hanover Booth at the River Valley Council was set up Friday afternoon by Kelly Crockett, Suzy Harrington and Dave Worcester assisted by Bruce Powell. Working at the booth on Saturday were Brenda Gross, Vickie Fimiani, Paulette Booth, Bob Fortin, Deirdre O'Callaghan and Dave Worcester. All the workers reported a very interesting event with a lot of folks stopping by the Hanover booth to ask questions. Raffle items went to Judy Roy, Mexico (bench); Kelly Crockett, Bethel (first basket); and Sandy Roderick, Oxford (second basket).

There were two more booths at the Expo from Hanover. Hanover Iron Works with Richard Duka had an excellent display, as did Stony Brook Recreation with Shirley Powell. Bruce Powell, H. Richard Powell and others accomplished parking for the event.

The River Valley Growth Council held their business meeting at the Hanover Town Office on Wednesday, Oct. 1. About 30 members and guests attended the luncheon meeting that was moderated by Vice President Dick Lovejoy, in the absence of President Joe Derouche, who did not attend due to illness. Executive Director Scott Christiansen outlined ongoing projects that may develop into companies to employ local people. The five Hanover residents that were at the meeting as visitors all expressed favorable opinions about the meeting and were pleased that the group decided to visit Hanover for their meeting.

The Hanover Planning Board meeting originally scheduled for Oct. 1 was rescheduled to Oct. 8.
Local residents are welcoming Joan Tucker to the neighborhood. Joan moved to Ferry Road from Rumford Corner last week.

The Knights of Pythias International Jubilee took place last weekend in Calais and St. Stephen, New Brunswick. Attending from the local area were Danny and Janice Bennett, Milton; Evelyn Bean, Bryant Pond and Donna and Clem Worcester, Hanover. They spoke of driving through wind and rain on the way home, believed to be part of Hurricane Juan.

come to this meeting. Call to worship was held at the Newry Community Church Sunday morning, Sept. 28, at 9 a.m. with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. Thought of the day by Sue Wight. The message of the day was: "Follow Me" from Isaiah 32:17 and 18. "And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance forever; and my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation and in sure dwellingness and in a quiet resting place." Scripture readings followed by many, a prayer, hymns sung, benediction and postlude. Amen.

Thought for the week: "No matter how dreary, miserable, or bitter the weather, birds always can be heard singing."

Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney
There will be an Open House at the Andover Historical Society Building on Saturday, Oct. 11 from 1 to 4 p.m. They have lots of wonderful things that would make good Christmas presents. Only ten more shopping weeks until Christmas, and isn't that just wonderful? Also, that same day, Robert Spidell, author of the "Pynelis Journals," will be at the Andover Public Library from 1:30 until 4 p.m. He will give a presentation from 1:30 to 2 and then be available for a book signing from 2 to 4.

The First Congregational Church of Andover will sponsor a family fun evening of board games and desert on Saturday, Oct. 25 starting at 6:30 p.m. Board games for all ages will be available. Bring a desert to share. All are welcome.

Andover Transfer Station attendant Dale Richard is in Rumford Hospital. A card would be nice.

Dwight Hutchins is at home recuperating from surgery. A card would be nice.

Starting Oct. 20, the Town Office will have a new secretary. Andover resident Hope Peterson will be taking over Joan Carney's job as secretary. Welcome aboard, Hope. We hope that everything will work out fine for her, we are Hoping for the best, and Hopefully she will love the job. The town will still be stuck with me as a selectperson until March of 2005, unless I really, really, really mess up and there is a recall.

Teddy Conrad came away from the Fryeburg Fair with a bunch of ribbons. He placed fifth for Best Pair of Oxen, seventh for Best Matched Pair, and tenth for Best Single Oxen. He also got his fifteen seconds of fame on the news on Channel six.

Alan and Kim (Whitten) Stinson will be in town for a few days this week visiting with friends and family.

The Poy family went to the Fryeburg Fair for the first time. Polly Poy entered the pig scramble, but I haven't found out how she did. Is the pig scramble anything like running with the bulls in Pamplona, Spain?

See 'ya.

How about those Red Sox? Didn't they put on a great show.

We haven't had this much attention to sports since the Pats won the Super Bowl a few years ago.

The color is glorious at peak. Sunsets at this time of year defy description. The "Leaf Peepers" have migrated north. Last Friday a light snow fell over the mountains. The sky was "October Blue" and the trees were a patchwork of red, yellow and orange. It won't last. If we have one good rain and a little wind, the leaves will be gone till spring. (Whenever that is.)

The Fryeburg Fair was well attended by the folks from town. The Harris Family comes from New York and Massachusetts every year to attend the fair. This year, the weather on Saturday was far less than cooperative. Driving rain and slippery mud underfoot was very disappointing for fair goers. Sandy and Gene Wixom, Dick Angevine, Evelyn and Jim Kenney all reported record attendance. It took the Harris family one hour in traffic to reach the parking area. Lucille and Earl Largesse lived in their palatial 5th wheeler all week and enjoyed it immensely. It's a good fair and a welcome event every year.

Simonne Lavalée and her Christmas elves, Ginny Williamson, Sue Angevine, Margaret Mitchell and Ellie LeComte, have been busy making handcrafted baskets for the seniors and children to be presented at the Christmas party.

Thank you to Carolyn Hill Taylor for a lovely bouquet of snapdragons from her garden.

The apple crop is a zero this year. The bears have snapped up any apples available. Buster Williamson says they will go into hibernation soon, since the food supply is so low in the woods.

The coyotes are becoming braver. Walt Stanczyk encountered one as he was checking his rain gauge. The beastie boldly walked in front of him in his driveway. The raccoons remain pests. A half-white snowshoe hare crossed Mill Road in our headlights. It hasn't been very cold down on the lake. As of Oct. 6 we have not yet had a frost. The impatiens are blooming like August instead of October.

The trees around the lake are magnificent reflecting in the dark water.

It is partridge season. Several bird hunters are in the area. I've only heard two gunshots. The delicious partridge is the "Bird of the Week."

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5:15 p.m., evening service at 6 p.m. Prayer meeting and Bible Study are Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at 9 a.m. is Ladies Bible time. The quarterly business meeting will be held Oct. 21, and Oct. 24 to 26 is the Fall Missions Conference. Pastor Bob Philbrick, the Carl Hodson family of Venezuela and Scott and Heather MacKenzie of New York City will be here.

Daughters of Union Veterans Tent 17 will meet on Monday, Oct. 13, at the Grange Hall for a regular meeting.

Woodstock Extension will meet at the Town Annex on Oct. 15 for a meeting at 10:30 a.m. The program will be "Decoration." There will be a tasting party.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens met for their foliage lunch and get-together at the Town and Country Inn in Shelburne, N.H. on Thursday, Oct. 2. Special plans were made to have a luncheon on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 12 noon at Teena's in Rumford, ordering from the regular or luncheon menu. Evelyn Bean will be taking reservations and phoning members to see who wants to attend.

Don't forget the PTA Craft Fair on Oct. 25 at the Woodstock Elementary School.

The Woodstock Historical Society has an elegant collection of artifacts in its museum. They are a credit to the town and area and are a valuable resource for all. Curator Larry Billings has donated many, but so has everyone else in the community. Assembling the collection has been a collaborative effort and the results are remarkable. The curator has given the society a rare first edition and a volume of poems by Longfellow, who grew up in Maine. The society received some genealogical information in the mail recently. The museum is in order for another year — the curator sees to that. He keeps records of exhibits and arranges and displays them in the building.

The society celebrates its 25th year beginning in November. Meetings are held the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m. Plan to attend, view the exhibits, enjoy the informative program and have refreshments with congenial society members. Curator Billings will do a reading of some British poetry for the October meeting. He gave the Whitman Memorial Library a book and a notice from the society. He also gave a book on Pope John XXIII to the society.

Lorraine Mills and I attended a seminar on diabetes at the Conference Room at the Ripley Building in Norway, Saturday, Sept. 27. It was amazing to me that the nurse and the dietician, Pat Watson, could speak for six hours on the subject and I never was bored. Some of it I knew already, of course, but there was a lot that I didn't know. One of the things that the nurse said bugged her was the fact that people with diabetes define themselves by the disease by saying "I am a diabetic" as if that was all they were. She said a person with cancer didn't say, "I am a canceretic." I was also amused that she was not happy with doctors who said, "Watch what you eat," because it did not tell you anything, and then she kept saying it. She admitted that she often fell in that trap. Anyhow it was sort of fun to be doing something different for a change. I talked with Norma Peterson, Sunday, and she said she was doing a bit better but she was worried because the family wants to give her a big party on her 90th birthday, which is coming up the last of this month. She said that she told them she really didn't want one and she meant just what she said. My personal opinion, which no one has asked for of course, is that they ought to listen to her. I know what it is like after losing a husband and you are all worn out from the worry and the stress. If she doesn't feel she is up to it then I hope they will leave it at that. I'm sure she would enjoy a card shower much more.

Lorene Mills, Ricky McLean, and I attended the gospel concert put on by the Keffers at the Praise Assembly of God Church in Rumford Center last Thursday evening. They are very good and quite well known down South. There was a man and his wife, their daughter and son and the son's wife and little girl. They said their daughter's husband was due to join them in a few days. They also said two more little ones were to be added to the family next year. They have a pretty big bus but they may have to invest in a bigger one after the babies arrive. It was cute to see the little girl making eyes at Ricky. She would smile the biggest smile and wave. She is a beautiful little blonde, and if she is this outgoing at nineteen years as she is at nineteen months, Daddy is going to have to come up with rules to date his teenage daughter, too.

Diane Thurston and I were in Norway on Saturday, and I had to stop and get some cat food at The Little Jungle, and I saw a beautiful three-colored cat with a squashed-in face there. Now I am a sucker for squashed-in faces on cats. I can't imagine why since they have more problems with such things as colds, which usually results in a trip to the vet when other cats just get over them. Anyhow, it is a good thing I promised others and myself that I would not take on any more cats because I really wanted that cat. I hope someone gives it a nice home. Of course, I'd like to see all cats get nice homes, but until people stop letting their cats breed indiscriminately that is not about to happen. On the other hand I am not stupid enough to take on any more because I cannot afford them and I do not want to be one of those elderly women who are defined by the number of cats they have.

The town offers its sincerest sympathy to Greg Erskine, and the rest of the Erskine family, on the loss of his father, Clayton Erskine, of Naples. It is always hard to lose a parent even if you are an adult. Our thoughts are with his mother, too, during this difficult time.

Ralph and Lorene Mills spent Wednesday with Lorene's mother, Laura Hutchins, in East Andover and split some wood for her.

Once again, I can relate to Sharon Bouchard's column as she wrote on Wallingford's Orchards. I can remember back to when I was not quite thirty and I had an appointment with a doctor in Lewiston. I don't remember why, but John and I ended up having about an hour to kill in Lewiston, so we went for a ride to investigate some of the outlying areas. Somehow we ended up on a hill and as we went down it at a rather good speed we needed to make a turn; but, we were going a bit too fast and ended up on the Wallingford Orchard road instead. John said, "Whew, I sure am glad the orchard was there. I might have been able to make that turn if I had to but I sure am glad I didn't have to!" When the City of Auburn was working on the road into Lewiston, travelers were detoured up the orchard road, so I got to see that turn John was glad he didn't have to make and I could see why. It is very sharp. At least I was going up it so I was not going very fast. It is pretty up in that section. Some of the houses look like turn-of-the-century. They sure knew how to build them to look stately back then but how they ever heated them I don't know. They must have had to shrink down into a few rooms. Of course, some of us remember doing that not so long ago and with houses not so big as those. Somehow we all seem to adjust.

The second annual PTA Craft Fair will be held Oct. 25 at the Woodstock Elementary School. Tables are $10 each plus a small item contribution to the Chinese Auction. For information call Missy Wakefield at 665-2211.

I am sorry to report that Brad Record has been in the hospital with a slight stroke. Brad is now home and will be going to a specialist in Portland for more tests. We wish him the best for a quick recovery. Brad is married to my daughter, Kellie.

Evelyn and James Dunn have finally moved to their new home in Norway from Campton, N.H. It will be good to have them close by. Evelyn hasn't been feeling well for quite a while and is anxious to get settled here. Their daughter, Patrice, will be returning to her home in California after spending two months with them. Evelyn is my sister.

The leaves are changing fast and October will soon be a thing of the past and snow will fly. Hopefully, we'll have an easy winter. If this winter goes as fast as this last summer, spring is not far away.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frazer and another couple traveled to Nova Scotia recently. They had a good time but Frank's wife suffered a fall and got injured. Hopefully, she'll recover soon.

Several persons from this area attended Fryeburg Fair. Some went and stayed the whole week. I haven't been for many years, but many look forward to it every year.

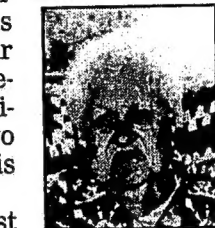

We do not have any bird feeders out at this time. We've given up for a while. The squirrels have broken every one we have had out. I purchased new ones and they only lasted one day. We're going to wait until snow comes and try again.

There are new store owners at West Paris General Store. I do not know their names but have been in the store and they seem very nice.

Neal and Carol Hall are moving to the Abbott Road in Woodstock. Kenny Poland's crew has been doing the work preparing for the new home. Neal and Carol are moving to be near the grandchildren. Carol is working at the Norway Saving Bank in South Paris. We welcome them to the area.

Another week gone and our weather is changing, also our leaves are changing fast now.

David Holt of Norway and Ann Payne of town had dinner with their parents, Leonas and Fay Holt on Sunday. Ann was down to see her aunt Saturday.

Brad Payne has a new snow machine, a nice Polaris, so he's ready for snow now so to try it out.

Milton and Eleanor Inman attended Fryeburg Fair. They work over there every year.

Wednesday, Marie Curtis and I went over to Farmington to my cousin's, Phyllis Flagg. She had made a set of dolls, Raggedy Ann and Andy. She does a very good job making them. We took Marie's mother, Iva Bragg of Sumner, with us. Her sister, Rose, was supposed to go with us, but she had to work. When we got ready to leave, Phyllis gave me what they call an egg plant; it has little white eggs on it and then they turn yellow and gold, about as large as a bantam egg. It's a very interesting plant. Cacti plants are my favorite. I lost all of mine when I was sick last winter, but I was lucky to have three given to me from my daughter, Evelyn, that she couldn't keep. Hope to get more this fall.

Quote of the week: "Children have more need of models than critics."

Have a safe and happy week.

Part of last week was sunny for Fryeburg Fair, but with the wind it did get chilly. For the evening shows the seating is usually cold. In past years, I have gone over for two days and stayed with my two sisters-in-law overnight in their large camper. The bag was packed, but this year things did not turn out as planned. I spent three days at Stephens Memorial Hospital. I worked at the hospital for about 20 years but did not intend spending as much time there now as I have this year. I returned home Thursday afternoon and am doing well. It is a good place if one needs them, but I have used up my share of their services. My

BETHEL WATER DISTRICT

9 Philbrook Street - PO Box 104

Bethel, ME 04217-0104

(207) 824-2342 - E-mail bwd@megalink.net

The Bethel Water District (the "District") gives notice to the public that on Tuesday, October 21, 2003, at 6pm, the trustees of the District will hold a public hearing in the meeting room of the Bethel Town Office to discuss and hear comments on a proposed water rate increase.

Effective on December 31, 2003

	% Increase	$ Increase
Flat Rates	28.1%	$487
Residential	31.0 %	$29,897
Commercial	31.7%	$17,721
Industrial	31.1%	$57
Private Fire Protection	30.9%	$2,578
*Public Fire Protection	33.3	$22,866
		$73,606

*Charges are determined by a formula required by the Maine Public Utilities Commission

Since the Bethel Water District last implemented an approved rate increase in 1999, the District has been subject to significant increases in operating costs and reduction in supplementary revenues.

Over the past four years, labor costs and related employee benefits, procedural changes in mandated water testing and costs of treatment chemicals have all increased at a greater rate than the growth of revenues.

Additionally, depreciation charges on quality monitoring, treatment and distribution equipment upgrades, as well as debt incurred to complete needed system upgrades in the West Bethel wells and pumping systems, and the cost of replacing a marginally serviceable vehicle have substantially increased our operating costs.

Finally, the District's plan for wood harvesting in the Chapman Brook Watershed, which had provided watershed infrastructure (roads and bridges) improvements and other distribution system capital improvements, has been substantially reduced.

Pursuant to Title 35-A Section 6104, a customer has the right to request additional information relating to the present and proposed rates from the District, the right to an open and fair hearing, and the right to assistance from the Public Advocate. Customers also have the right under 35-A Section 6104 to petition the Maine Public Utilities Commission (the "PUC") to suspend and investigate rates pursuant to 35-A Section 310 if, on or before November 21, 2003, 15 percent or more of the District's customers file with the treasurer of the District AND with the PUC (c/o Administrative Director, State House Station #18, Augusta, ME 04330-0018) a petition or petitions demanding review by the PUC of the proposed rate changes. Signatures on such petitions are invalid unless accompanied by the printed names and addresses of the signers. Upon request the District will provide customers with petition forms that include space for the signature and printed name and address of the signer. Further information may be obtained by calling the PUC at (207) 287-3831 or by using its toll free number 1-800-452-4669.

A copy of the material supporting the proposed rate changes will be available at the District Office and the town office for inspection after September 15, 2003.

If you have any questions or desire additional information, you may contact the District at (207) 824-2342. For more assistance, you may contact the Public Advocate at (207) 287-2445 or by mail at State House Station #112, Augusta, ME 04330-0112.

three doctors and all the good nurses gave me good care. And I think the hospital food was good.

On Sunday, Oct. 12, the Rev. Joy Gasta will speak on "Columbus the Arrogant." How the arrogance of one explorer or leader can affect the world. Services at the West Paris Universalist Church are at 9 a.m. Jim Burke is organist. All are welcome.

Buffy is having his second visit to the vet's, for his wound has not healed well as his mother has not been home to take care of him. We are both on the same antibiotic.

No more sickness in my report again. Buffy and I are planning to get better and stay that way.

West Paris

by Bertha DeHaas

Autumn is here in all her glory now, with cold nights bringing brighter color to our days.

West Paris Grange 298 entered in both the Ladies' Domestic Exhibit and the Men's Agriculture Exhibit at Fryeburg Fair. The men took first prize and the ladies took second prize. There were 11 granges that exhibited this year. Congratulations on a job well done. Those exhibits are a lot of hard work.

Fryeburg Fair is the last fair of the year here in Maine. Tuesday was Senior Citizen Day with sunny skies and possibly a record crowd. Gloria Hadley took first prize for the "4 Hitch" pony division. Congratulations, Gloria. Those "Halfling" ponies are really beautiful. All the ponies and horses are a joy to watch.

The ladies group of the West Paris Baptist Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mary Standard in Sumner. What a wonderful time we all had. We planned our program for the year, had our program and devotions and a most delicious lunch. Thank you, Mary, for your kind hospitality.

Our next ladies group meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 7 p.m. at the West Paris Baptist Church down in the dining room. Hope to see you there.

Each year, at this time, all thoughts turn to the harvest and getting ready for winter. West Paris Grange 298 will again put on their Harvest Supper this year on Saturday, Oct. 18, from 5 to 6 p.m. at their hall on 4 Church Street. This is a true "New England Boiled Dinner" complete with a most delicious variety of pies for dessert. The prices are $6 for adults and $3 for children under 12. Come out and enjoy. This is our final public supper for the year.

From 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 1, the West Paris Grange will be having their annual Fall Craft Fair. This is a great place to do your Christmas shopping. There are crafts of all kinds, books, toys, clothes, Avon products, plants and games, all of which might be the perfect gift for your family and friends. Our lunch at noon features Mary Lovejoy's famous corn chowder, muffins, sandwiches, hot dogs with pie or cookies for dessert. To rent tables for $5 each call 674-3872.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, you can bring your cats and dogs to get their rabies shots from 9 to 11 a.m. at the West Paris Grange Hall, 4 Church Street. For more information call 674-3046.

The Flu Shot Clinic for the town of West Paris will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 30, at the West Paris Grange Hall. Be sure to bring your Medicare and Medicaid cards with you. With these, the flu shots are free. All others are $8. Muffins, coffee and juice will be served after you get your shots. For more information, call 674-3046. Bethel Family Health Center personnel will be providing the service, as they have in the past.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers,
Sharon and Howard
Berman from Arlington,

Mass., were at their cottage at Lake Keewaydin this past weekend, and Sharon and I skipped out to the Fryeburg Fair on Sunday afternoon. It was a fun day. Earlier in the day I attended church here in Stoneham and enjoyed hearing the Rev. Diane Wood preach and Rich Wood's playing of the piano and singing. They are a nice and talented couple.

Dale Nelson has been on vacation this week from his job at Ripley and Fletcher Company in South Paris. I have been on vacation from my desk clerk's job at the Inn at Evergreen Valley. Albert Nelson Jr. and friends have been at his camp at Wilson's Mills this past week bird hunting. We are tending his dog while he is away.

The Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will be meeting at the home of Eleanor Smith at Waterford Acres at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Don't forget Thursday, Oct. 9, the Stoneham Church Harvest Supper. This is always good with the corned beef and cabbage and all those other good veggies. There will also be rolls, beverages and pies for dessert. This is 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Frances Grant saw two moose one day recently while coming home from North Waterford. She had to put her brakes on or else they might have collided. They just seem to come right out of nowhere. They don't look left nor right but straight ahead. She was lucky.

Albert just took "Katie" out for her morning walk and saw a fox standing in the road. I think he meant a four-legged fox. We do have a lot of foxes in town. He said it stood there for a long time before moving off into the woods.

The Rev. George Froberg has announced that a fall sight-seeing trip will be made to go to Boston on Oct. 18, which is a Saturday. They plan to travel by train from Portland and go out to eat in Boston. This sounds like a fun day. A sign-up sheet is at the Stoneham Church, or you can contact him at 693-6461 for further details.

This is a nice fall day (Thursday, Oct. 2), but a little nippy in the air. It's a nice day to do anything.

From the Bethel Philatelic Club

The Bethel Philatelic Club met on Sept. 30 at the Bethel Historical Society's Robinson House. There were four interested stamp people present and Ms. Adams of the Lewiston Sun-Journal. She wanted to do a story on a small stamp club that was new to the area.

One person brought in a Krause-Minkus catalog and a copy of the first edition of Scott's classic Stamp catalogue. There were several stamp newspapers making the rounds.

Ms. Adams asked each person when they started collecting stamps and why. The why still works today for all of us. There were two or three albums of duplicates to look at and pike from.

If the hours were changed, would more collectors attend? Call Nancy Mercer (824-3350) or Harry Kuzyk (824-2059). You can collect covers (envelopes with cancellations) or whatever you like to be a stamp collector.

The next meeting will be Oct. 28 at the Robinson House at 3 p.m.

Happy stamp collecting.

From the Friends of Telstar High/Middle School

The Friends of Telstar High/Middle School will meet in the THS Library from 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 28 to welcome all students and parents of the school. This month's speaker will be Rick Breaux, who will talk about Chartwell's lunch program.

Our agenda includes, Homecoming update, car show update, Halloween at Telstar, fundraising, and scholarship committee.

We hope you can make it. Refreshments will be provided by Chartwell's.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

This weekend promises a multitude of great events throughout the Bethel area. On Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Telstar Regional High School gymnasium, the 6th annual Bethel Antique Show and Sale offers an excellent opportunity to find that special collectible, linen, antique toy, postcard, furniture and more. More than a dozen dealers will be present with their one-of-a-kind wares. Admission is $2.50 or $2 with coupon on the back page of this week's Bethel Citizen. A full range of activities will be offered at Sunday River Ski Resort both Saturday and Sunday, including the Blue Mountains Arts and Crafts Festival, the North American Wife Carrying Championships, a complete ski sale and more. And at the Bethel Airport on Saturday, the Bethel Fall Foliage Fly In offers an opportunity to see the new and improved runway, watch myriad aircraft fly in and out and enjoy the refreshments. Many other happenings around the area give us all a reason to stay around and enjoy the Bethel area.

Our 2004 Annual Guidebooks were delivered on Monday. Members are encouraged to come in for their supply to distribute. Many thanks to Western Maine Supply, Brad Jerome, Steve and Eric Weight, and Jette Black for helping to unload the 50,000 guidebooks.

True North Adventureware is celebrating fifteen years of outfitting Western Maine and welcomes you to join them for Business After Hours, Thursday, Oct. 23 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Located at 162 Main Street at the Philbrook Mall, the new winter line is out this week — jackets, boots, gloves, packs, yoga wear, fun accessories, etc. They also offer trail recommendations and advice too.

The chamber is offering a great opportunity to hear directly from the spokespeople representing both sides of the upcoming casino referendum. We are sponsoring a breakfast informational forum next Wednesday, Oct. 15, from 7:30 to 9 a.m. at the Bethel Inn & Country Club, in the South Dining Room. A mandatory

RSVP is required to attend by calling the chamber office, 824-2282, by next Monday, Oct. 13. A $5 breakfast is available and the fee will be collected at the door. The spokespeople scheduled to speak are Sgt. Greg Spitzer, retired Maine State Police for the Casino's "No Group" and Erin Lehane, legal counsel for "Think About It?" This will not be a debate, and the audience will have the opportunity to submit one question each, in writing, to the moderator and we will try to get through as many of them as we can before we adjourn at 9 a.m. All interested people from the community are welcomed to attend, but space is limited and an RSVP is essential.

From the Telstar Alumni Association

The Telstar Alumni Association held its monthly meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 9, at Telstar Regional High School. A report was given on Alumni Day 2003, which was held on Aug. 9, the second Saturday. The attendance was low, but those who attended had a good time reminiscing with other former classmates.

On Saturday, Nov. 1, the Alumni Association will host its annual fall dance at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills from 8:30 p.m. to midnight, featuring "The Suspects." Part of the proceeds from this dance will be set aside for the Telstar Educational Assistance Award, which is given each spring to qualifying graduates.

Any Telstar alumni interested in helping with reunions during the 2004 summer is invited and urged to attend our monthly meetings to get the ball rolling. Next summer's reunion years are as

From the
Oxford County Democrats

More than 40 volunteers turned out to assist the Oxford County Democrats at the Fryeburg Fair, staffing the booth and participating in the Parade. The group included people from throughout the county and neighbors from New Hampshire. Results from the Straw Poll conducted at the fair and at the Rumford Expo will be released by the week of Oct. 13. Stony Brook Campground of Hanover generously donated gift certificates for prizes in the Free Raffle.

Governor's Night in Oxford County on Oct. 16 in Rumford will feature both a Silent Auction and a Chinese Auction, as well as music, a program featuring remarks by Governor Baldacci and others, and a Chicken Parmesan dinner. Tickets are available from Rep. John Patrick, Senator Bruce Bryant, Linda Petrie and Joe Derouche, or by calling 875-2116. Donations of items for the Silent and Chinese auctions are welcome. Contact Bruce Bryant or call 875-2116. Items already donated include a quilted wall hanging, a speaker phone, a book entitled "Sixteen Scandals," craft items and political memorabilia too numerous to detail. New members of the

CORIAN® sends granite back to the Stone Age

As rocks go, granite is just great. But a rock can't do what CORIAN can. With CORIAN, satiny, sensuous curves can sweep seamlessly into matching multiple sinks. Inlays can dance across counter tops in intricate patterns. Edge treatments can add dash and dazzle...mixing a touch of metal, wood or ceramic with the easy-to-clean, stain-resistant durability of CORIAN.

Rout it. Carve it. Sandblast it. Even thermoform it into curves and waves. CORIAN, doesn't require regular professional maintenance like granite. And with a 10-year warranty from DuPont, you won't ever find yourself between a rock and a hard place.

Call today. We're just a stone's throw away. Let us show you the design freedom CORIAN can give you that granite can't.

2002 REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY

We're there

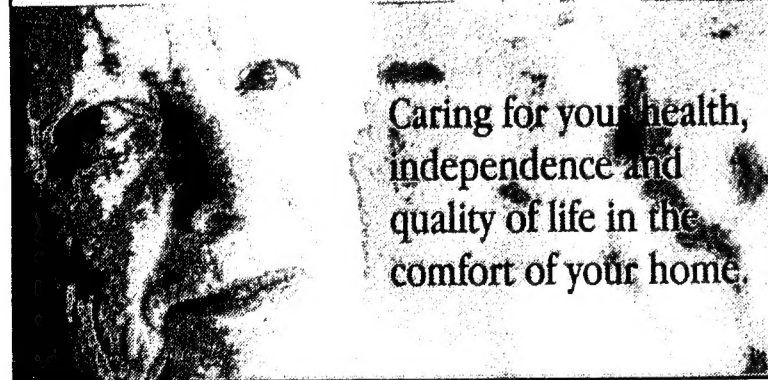

In 2002, AHCH's 436 staff members provided 215,466 skilled home care, hospice and supportive care visits.

AHCH volunteers provided 20,000 hours of service.

Together, serving 6,640 patients and their families in 104 communities within Androscoggin, Franklin, Oxford and northern Cumberland counties.

Thanks to the generosity of more than 2,000 donors, 54 municipalities and area United Ways, AHCH was able to provide $973,909 in grant funded and subsidized skilled care to those in need.

Caring for your health, independence and quality of life in the comfort of your home.

where you need us...

In 2002, AHCH extended the reach and scope of services provided to our patients and their families across our service area to include:

- Improved access to hospice services for individuals living in long-term care facilities
- Specialized in-home consultations for patients requiring wound, ostomy and continence nursing care
- Mental health therapy and counseling in a home setting
- Expanded Lifeline personal response services through new collaborations with community hospitals when you need us.

host committee for the reception, to be held preceding the dinner at the home of Jennifer Kreckel, include Senator Lynn Bromley, Gail Chase, auditor, Jim and Rosemary McLean, and Senator Bevely Daggett. Tickets for the reception are available from Cathy Newell, 875-2118.

Caucus meetings to determine Maine's vote for the Democratic nominee for president will be held on Sunday, Feb. 8, 2004. County Chair Cathy Newell is assembling the list of caucus convenors for each town in Oxford County. The list must be turned in to the Maine Democratic Party by Dec. 1 so that training sessions may be held in December and January.

Anyone who would like to be involved in the caucus in their town should contact the chair at 875-2116, or cathynewell@megalink.net. Duties include publicizing the caucus meetings, making arrangements for the facility, posting legal notices, and conducting the meeting. Duties are often shared among several individuals and several neighboring towns may decide to hold their caucuses at the same location, such as the local high school, allowing candidates to visit.

From the Oxford County Retired Teachers

The Oxford County Retired Teachers Association will meet on Friday, Oct. 17, at the Buckfield Community Church on Turner Road (Route 117). The social period starts at 10:30 a.m., and the business meeting at 11 a.m. The afternoon program is in charge of entertainer Michael Miclon. The scholarship fundraiser will be a book sale.

From the Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

Oct. 14 is the date for the last supper and dance of this season at the Locke Mills Legion by the Jackson-Silver Auxiliary. The Harvest Supper will be served at 5:30 p.m. and the dancing will follow until 9:30 p.m., with music by the Richard Felt Band. There will be the usual door prizes. As announced last month, the cost will be $7 for ages 12 and up, $3.50 for those under age 12.

From the Oxford County Republicans

David Heidrich, a junior at Oxford Hills High School, spent eight weeks this summer in Washington, D.C. as a page for U.S. Senator Olympia J. Snow (R-Maine). Terming this time in the nation's capital as "the experience of a lifetime," the 16-year-old student will provide some highlights of his summer at the Oct. 14 meeting of the Oxford County Republican Committee, to be held at the Brownfield Community Church. The meeting will begin with a 5:30 p.m. social hour and 6:30 p.m. supper followed by a business meeting and speaker.

Also occurring at this meeting will be time for the three Republican candidates in the new Maine Senate District 13 to be introduced and briefly comment on their candidacy. Those expected to be present are David Hastings, Caldwell Jackson and Paul Waterhouse. All Oxford County Republicans are urged to attend.

Oxford County Republicans had a booth at the Fryeburg Fair, which was visited by hundreds last week. U.S.

Senator Susan Collins (R-Maine) was able to be present for the parade with the Oxford County Republicans on Saturday morning.

The November meeting of the Oxford County Republicans will be held in Rumford Corner at the Masonic Hall. The speaker will be Scott Christianson, economic director for the River Valley Growth Council.

From the Western Mountains Alliance

The Western Mountains Alliance has hired Amy Scott of Newry to fill the new position of project coordinator.

"We are pleased to have Amy join our growing team. Her past work on Maine rivers coupled with her skills in community organizing and grant writing will greatly enhance our work in helping to shape the future of western Maine," says Deb Burd, executive director of the Western Mountains Alliance.

Scott is a graduate of the College of the Atlantic (COA) where she was the recipient of the Morris K. Udall Excellence in National Environmental Policy Scholarship. Most recently, she worked with the faculty of COA to create a watershed studies program and developed and coordinated the Union River Watershed Coalition in eastern Maine's Hancock County. She has also helped the Northern Forest Center develop a teacher's resource guide to cultural and natural resource programs in the region. She is currently a member of the board of directors of the Augusta-based Maine Rivers.

Established in 1988, the Western Mountains Alliance strives to improve the quality of life and to strengthen the regional identity of those living in Oxford, Franklin, Somerset, Piscataquis and northern Androscoggin counties. For more information, log onto www.westernmountainsalliance.org.

From the White Mountain National Forest

The Androscoggin Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest is offering environmental educational programs and activities to schools, clubs, after-school programs and any other interested groups. A number of learning topics are offered including wildlife, plants and trees in the White Mountain National Forest, Leave No Trace principles, hiking safely, and more.

The ranger station (located 2 1/2 miles south of the Gorham, N.H., common on Route 16) has many interactive displays and is open to the public. Prior to Columbus Day, the station is open seven days a week, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. After Columbus Day, the station will be closed on Sundays. To make arrangements to schedule programs either at the station or at a group facility, please call (603) 466-2713; TTY (603) 466-2856

From the Appalachian Mountain Club

The Appalachian Mountain Club (AMC) recently received the prestigious Achievement in Publications Award from the Natural Resources Council of America (NRCA) for its report titled "An Ecological Atlas of the Upper Androscoggin River Watershed," authored by AMC Senior Scientist and Assistant Director of Research Dr. David Publicover.

Publicover and AMC Executive Director Andrew Falender attended the NRCA's 19th annual Conservation Community Award Banquet in Washington, D.C., to accept the award Sept. 17.

"The AMC bases its conservation policy initiatives on sound science," said Falender. "It's exciting to see the efforts of our dedicated research staff recognized by experts in the field."

The NRCA was created in 1946 as an association for the leaders of a growing movement of nonprofit organizations dedicated to conservation and sustainable management of the earth's natural resources.

The 88-page ecological atlas, released in February 2003, presents history and detailed description of the natural landscape of the watershed upstream of the confluence of the Androscoggin and Webb rivers in Dixfield.

"The AMC developed this atlas to provide an educational resource and planning tool for those with an interest in the area, both to help people understand the landscape and to help foster a 'sense of place' based on natural rather than political boundaries."

The atlas is available on CD-ROM. A limited number of printed copies are also available. To obtain a copy of the atlas, please contact Dr. Publicover at (603) 466-2721, ext. 200, or via e-mail at dpublicover@amcinfo.org. Information about the AMC is available at www.outdoors.org.

Founded in 1876, the Appalachian Mountain Club is the oldest conservation and recreation organization in the United States. With more than 90,000 members in the Northeast and beyond, the AMC promotes the protection, enjoyment, and wise use of the mountains, rivers, and trails of the Appalachian region.

Hall Dale 2, Telstar 1; Oct. 6—Telstar's Mallory Brown scored the Rebels' only goal, off a hit by Liz Rosenberg, in a loss to Hall Dale. "We didn't play a clean defensive game, which resulted in Hall Dale having offensive possession way too often," said coach Gail Wight. "We only took three shots in the second half."

Jay 1, Telstar 0; Oct. 3—Telstar's Stephanie Tripp had three saves in a loss to Jay. "We took 12 shots on goal to Jay's six, but we couldn't get the ball in the net," said coach Gail Wight.

Telstar 6, Livermore 1; Oct. 1—Telstar's Mallory Brown and Kayla Mills each scored two goals and Alanna Borst and Jessie Farrington added one each in a win over Livermore. Borst had two assists and Brown, Mills, Lindsay Hart and Tiffany Jordan one each. "The team was communicating extremely well, which resulted in very strong offensive drives," said coach Gail Wight. "Key defensive moves came from Santana Wilson and Megan Bailey."

High School J.V. Field Hockey

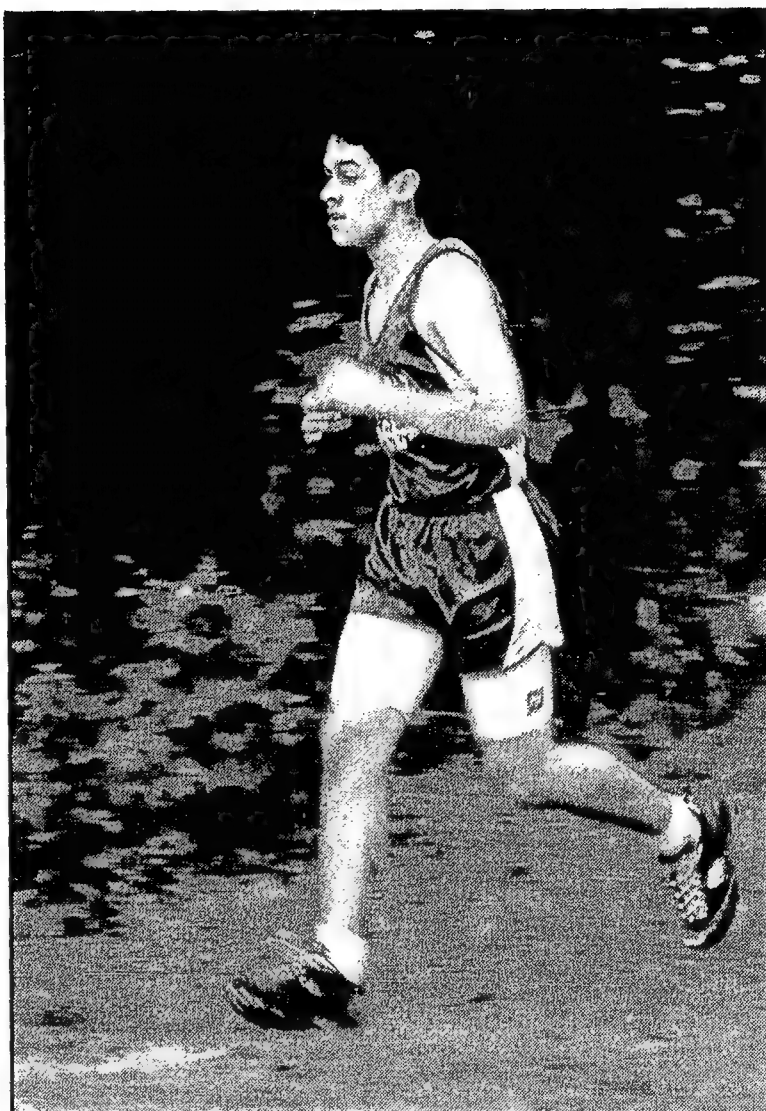

Telstar 2 Livermore 2; Oct. 1—Telstar managed to hang on to a 2-2 tie against Livermore. Kristie Carver put the Rebels on top first with an assist from Kelsey Dole. Telstar went into halftime leading 1-0. Livermore tied the game at 1-1 shortly into the second half. Then, with less than 2 minutes left to play Telstar's Kayla Damon scored off a pass from Danna Wilson to go ahead 2-1. But the Rebels weren't able to hold on to the lead, as Livermore put in a goal with 10 seconds left to play. Riley Gilbert did an excellent job in goal and had many outstanding saves. —coach Kim Kangas Telstar 2, Livermore 1; Oct. 7—"In the first half Seana Siekman made a great pass to Doug Costello, who put the ball in the back of the net," said coach Greg Luetje. "In the second half, both teams had some excellent chances, but the game-winning goal was scored by Doug Costello, assisted by Tommy Bodeau. Mike Fleet had another great game in goal." The Rebels play Mt. Valley today (Thursday) at Telstar.

HEADED FOR HOME—Nearing the end of his run, Telstar's Mike Brown emerges from the woods on the school's cross-country trail at a meet last week. The Rebels won the race.

Telstar 2, Livermore 1; Oct. 6—"Andy Whitney connected with Jonathon Parsons for a brilliant game-tying goal in the second half," said coach Greg Luetje. "And with less than three minutes left in the game, Marty Donovan stirred things up in the Livermore Falls penalty box, helping Doug Costello score his fourth goal of the season, and giving Telstar the win. Mike Fleet had an excellent performance in goal, saving 19 of 20 shots."

TMS J.V. Soccer

Telstar 1, Livermore 1; Oct. 7—Telstar's Arete Maselli scored for Telstar in a tie with Livermore. Patrick Gallagher had an assist. "Sawyer Barter played another great game in goal, and Devin Hughes, A.J. Hebert, Tim Fifield, Ethan Damon and Peter Cowan were all great in supporting roles," said coach Mark Kenney.

Telstar 2, Livermore 2; Oct. 6—Telstar's Arete Maselli had two goals and Wayland Picchiotti had an assist in a tie with Livermore. "Great goaltending by Tim Fifield and Tyler Hodsdon," said coach Mark Kenney. Super individual efforts by Deagan Conrad, Alex Gundersen, Patrick Gallagher, Seana Siekman, and Ethan Damon."

Telstar 11, Peru 2; Oct. 2—Telstar's Patrick Gallagher had three goals and Arete Maselli, Ethean Damon, and Tyler Hodsdon two each. Devin Hughes, Kelsea Kuvaja, and Sawyer Barter had one each, and Nick Stuer, Nic Kingsbury, A.J. Hebert, Jacob Berry, Deagan Conrad, and Maselli each had an assist. "Great job in goal by Tim Fifield to keep Peru off the scoreboard," said coach Mark Kenney. "Super individual efforts by Tony York, Deagan Conrad, Peter Cowan, A.J. Hebert, and Brad Boden helped fuel the offensive fire."

TMS Varsity Field Hockey

Sandy Andy Play Day at Jay, Oct. 6—In three games played, Telstar won one 3-0 and tied two 0-0. Whitney Mills and Bailey Davis scored goals. In individual competitions, Julia Stambolis had the longest drive for Telstar, Lisa Aron the best push pass accuracy and Josie Reiss, Bailey Davis and Chelsea Bean tied for the fastest time in the obstacle course.

Telstar 2, Jay 0; Oct. 2—Telstar's Bailey Davis and Josie Reiss scored goals as the Rebels beat undefeated Jay. Chelsea Bean and Whitney Mills had assists. "Outstanding defensive play was shown by Sarah Field, Vickie Rice, Julia Stambolis, Abby Gardner and Brianna Douglass," said coach Lisa Pivin.

JUDITH BERRIAULT

Judith Mason Berriault, 56, of Norway, died at her home on Thursday, Oct. 2, 2003.

Born in Manchester, N.H., on Feb. 9, 1947, she was the daughter of Leland and Cynthia Adams Mason.

She had been employed as a C.N.A. at Norway Rehabilitation and Living Center for many years.

Survivors include a brother, Alden R. Mason Sr. of Wyoming; two nephews, Leland Mason of Bethel and Alden Mason Jr. of Oxford; and two nieces, Christal McBean and Cynthia Mason, both of Sheridan, Wyo.

Graveside services were held on Monday, Oct. 6, at Pine Grove Cemetery in West Bethel.

ESTHER E. KNAPP

Esther E. Knapp, 72, went home to be with her Lord and Savior on Friday, Oct. 3, 2003 at the Ledgeview Living Center, West Paris. She was a resident of Garland Pond Road, Byron.

Born in Milton on July 19, 1931, she was the daughter of Llewellyn and Ethel M. (Eastman) Buck. She attended Rumford schools.

She owned and operated the Corner Lunch in Rumford and worked for local shoe shops and Forester Plastic Factory.

She enjoyed knitting, playing cards, caring for her flowers and feeding the birds. She also enjoyed camping, fishing, hunting and gold mining with her husband. She was at her happiest enjoying nature and viewing wildlife.

She was married in Rumford on June 17, 1965, to Ernest Lee Knapp with whom she made her home in Byron for over 40 years.

Other survivors include a brother, Elbridge Buck of Milton; three sisters, Kathleen Barker of Mexico, Charlotte Rose of Byron and Thelma McKenna of Milton; and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her daughter, Lorraine Linda Jones; her parents; and a brother, Floyd Buck.

Graveside services were held Sunday, Oct. 5, at the Abbotts Mill Cemetery in Rumford. Those who desire may contribute to the Ledgeview Living Center, 141 Bethel Road, West Paris, ME 04289 in her memory. Online condolences and shared memories may be expressed at meaderfh@awi.net.

RUTH M. MEDD

Ruth Moore Medd died peacefully on Oct. 6, 2003 at Schooner Estates in Auburn, where she had resided happily for more than 10 years.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., on Oct. 17, 1909, she was the daughter of Lodema Bayles Moore and William Moore.

She and her husband, Charles Lowell Medd, M.D., were married for 60 years and spent most of their married and professional lives in Manhasset, N.Y., before semi-retiring in 1977 to Rossmore Village in Jamesburg, N.J.

Medd raised her two sons alone for more than three years while Dr. Medd served in the Navy Seabees during World War II. As the wife of a general practitioner in Manhasset, she shared her home with Dr. Medd's office.

She was a founder of the Congregational Church of Manhasset in 1939 and served later as a deacon of the church. She sang for many years in the highly regarded church choir. She had many years of volunteer service at North Shore Hospital in Manhasset. She contributed many knitted afghans for fundraising.

In 1993, she moved to Auburn to be near her son, Dr.

William Medd and his family.

Two sons survive her, Bruce Medd, M.D., of Naples, Fla. and William Medd, M.D., and his wife of Norway; a brother, Lloyd Moore of Connecticut; another brother, Austin Moore, predeceased her; eight grandchildren including Catherine Medd and family of Hebron; Dr. Donald Medd and family of Portland; and Michael Medd of Hong Kong; Kimberly Newsome and family; Bruce Medd and family; Bradley Medd and wife; and Courtney Medd, all of New Jersey; and, Kelli Ogden and family of California. She enjoyed having 10 great-grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to The Campaign for Exceptional Care, Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, ME 04268.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Bethel Board of Selectmen will be holding a Public Hearing on Monday, October 20, 2003 in the Selectmen's Meeting Room at the Town Office. The public hearing will be held to discuss the two referendum articles placed before the voters on November 4, 2003.

The first question will be to approve a capital improvement project consisting of the design, rehabilitation, construction, and equipping of an Ambulance Station to improve the existing facilities, and to appropriate money from undesignated fund balance for the cost of this project.

The second question will be to approve a capital improvement project consisting of the northerly relocation of a portion of the Taylor Smith Rd., and to appropriate money from undesignated fund balance for the cost of this project.

If you are unable to attend the meeting please forward your comments in writing to the Bethel Town Office 19 Main St. P.O. Box 1660, Bethel, ME. Attention Scott Cole, Town Manager

CELIA JO CLARK

Celia "C J" Clark, 75, passed away quietly Oct. 1, 2003 at her Palmyra residence following a long illness.

She was born March 7, 1928 in Aztec, New Mexico a daughter of Fredrick and Josephine (Nation) Roberson. She lived in Durango, Colo., and as a teenager moved to Newport, graduating from Newport High School, Class of 1945. She was a well-known figure around the Palmyra area. She managed the Palmyra Golf Course from 1970 until July 2003, when ill health forced her to retire. She will be missed by hundreds of people whose lives she touched over the years at the golf course.

She was an avid New England sports fan, watching her

In Loving Memory of Richard G. Hutchins Murdered Oct. 9, 1992

Don't cry at my grave
'cause I won't be there.
I'll be in the summer breeze that ruffles your hair.

I'll be in the sunshine
I'll be in the snow.
I'll be with you forever
you already know.

I'll be any shape, or any size
I'll be in the reflection of your beautiful eyes.

I'll always love you, and I'll always care.

So don't cry at my graveside
'cause I won't be there.

beloved Celtics and Red Sox, often joined by her Sox cheering buddy, Don Mendell. She was an accomplished outdoorswoman at hunting, fishing and golf.

She came from a musical family. Her mom and great aunt were a popular duo, playing piano and guitar. She was formerly married to Yodeling Slim Clark for twenty-five years. She often played on shows with her husband as an accomplished bass player and vocalist. Her stage name was "Blue Eyed Celia." She wrote several popular songs performed by Slim, including "Rocky Mountain Yodel" and "Trail Riders Lullaby."

She was a longstanding member of Nokomis Chapter 42 Order of the Eastern Star in Newport. She was elected as Worthy Matron more times than anyone in the history of the chapter.

She is survived by her son,

Card of Thanks

The mere words "Thank You" hardly seem adequate to express our feelings for those who honored the memory of John E. Howe. The flowers were lovely and the many, many sympathy cards overwhelming. The Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond will put their donations to good use and veterans will benefit by those contributions to the Jackson-Silver Post. For all of the above and those who attended the memorial and/or interment services, those who furnished and served food afterward and for all your personal expressions of sympathy, our heartfelt appreciation from our families and ourselves.

Bill, Eddie, and Steve Howe

Wilf and his wife Dotty of Bingham; a daughter, Jewel and her husband Rolly of Bethel; grandchildren, Patrick, Michael and his wife Cindy, and Jason; great-grandchildren, Savannah and Ryan; nieces and nephews in Maine, Florida and Illinois; cousins in Kansas and Colorado; close friends, Nat, Sylvia, Mary, Betty, Evelyn, Janet, Thea, and many more friends too numerous to mention; and her constant companion during the last ten years, her dog Bridgette. She was predeceased by her parents; and four brothers, Charles, Robert, Claude, and Lawrence.

A memorial service was held Tuesday, Oct. 7, at Crosby & Neal Funeral Home, Newport, with the Rev. Janet McAuley, vicar of St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Palmyra, officiating. In lieu of flowers, those who wish may make donations to their local animal shelter; or to the Palmyra Consolidated School Library, where she was a volunteer for many years. Envelopes will also be available at the funeral home.

Heartfelt Thanks from the families of Josephine Brown

To the staff of loving and caring nurses at Market Square Health Center. To the numerous family and friends for the lovely flowers, cards, phone calls, and most of all the expressions of love celebrating her life. To the VFW of South Paris for the hall.

BRUCE FENN II

Bruce Fenn II, 94, of 33 Douglass Road, Newry, died peacefully on Oct. 3, 2003, after a brief illness.

He was born in Brookline Mass., on May 9, 1909, the son of Russell and Katharine (Whitney) Fenn. He resided in Auburn, most of his adult life and lived with his son the last three years in Newry. He was a graduate of Yale University Class of 1932.

During World War II he was a Lt. Commander in the Navy serving as an Air Combat Intelligence Officer attached to the Staff Commander of Naval Forces in Europe.

On July 3, 1933, he married Gloria Gross, who died in March 1997.

He was an avid outdoorsman who enjoyed fly fishing and hunting. However, his passion was skiing. He directed ski schools at Bromley Mont, Vermont, the Lake Placid Club in N.Y. and the Wildcat Ski School at Pinkham Notch, N.H. He was also the assistant director of the Sepp Ruschp Ski School in Stowe, Vt.

He was a member of the Professional Ski Instructors of America-Eastern Division and served as an examiner and pre-course conductor for many years before retiring in 1975. To his close skiing friends he was known as "gentleman Bruce", to his loving family he was simply "Pop."

He is survived by his son, Bruce Fenn III and his wife Susan P. Therrien Fenn, with whom he resided; his daughter,

Card of Thanks

Thank you to BFD, Neil Olsen, Douglass Bennett, and to everyone who attended and sent gifts and helped out at my 50th birthday. You all made it unforgettable.
